

Factual and Opinion Adjectives

Factual adjectives provide information about nouns or pronouns. It is information that can't be argued with.

It could be information about:

number age size color shape type or style
possession (who owns it)

Opinion adjectives express personal thoughts and feelings. They are not facts - they are opinions.

For example:

nice, beautiful, lovely, funny, weird.

Factual Adjectives

What information does each factual adjective tell us about the nouns in these sentences?

I like your black shoes.

He played with Jim's dog.

Danny has four sisters.

She opened the wooden box.

Opinion Adjectives

How would you describe the sunrise?

spectacular boring

silly awful splendid

magnificent vibrant

interesting

disgusting yellow glorious radiant

horrible beautiful orange

amazing peaceful bright

fantastic delicious terrible

