

Crossword Puzzle

Name:

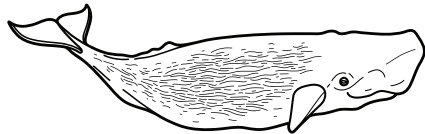

Date:

Whales

Clues Across:

- Another name for the layers of fat in a whale's body.
- One of the lobes of a whale's tail.
- The state of being kept safe from harm.
- The nostrils of a whale. Some whales only have one.
- Whales belong to this scientific class.
- Small crustaceans fit for a whale's dinner.
- One of the smallest species of whale.
- Some whales have these to help them hunt for food.
- The scientific name for toothed whales.
- Toothed whales use echolocation as a type of _____.
- Animals at risk of extinction are _____.
- Whale do this in the winter months.
- Blue, humpback, sei, minke and fin whales are all classified as what type of whale?
- A whale that is stranded on the shore is said to become this.
- A group of whales.

Clues Down:

- Some whales use this to strain their food.
- Ivory for making corsets in the 1800s was made from this.
- The number of individuals in a species.
- A tiny sea creature consumed by whales.
- Whaling activities have been _____ in most parts of the world.
- A tool that was used in the whaling industry.
- A baby whale is a _____.
- Whales were _____ to the brink of extinction during the late 1800s and early 1900s.
- A group that works together to conserve whale populations.
- Whale fat was boiled down to produce this during the 1800s.
- Groups of whales with similar features.
- Action of a surfacing whale.

